

BUREAUCRATIST

Meaning: Bureaucratist: a person who strictly follows established rules and procedures, often prioritizing adherence to protocol over flexibility and innovation.

1. The bureaucratist was known for their rigid adherence to protocol, often at the expense of creativity.
2. In a world full of innovation, the bureaucratist's methods felt outdated and cumbersome.
3. Critics argued that the bureaucratist's focus on rules stifled the potential for real progress.
4. During the meeting, the bureaucratist insisted on following procedures, even when they seemed unnecessary.
5. Her bureaucratist tendencies made it difficult to adapt to the fast-changing business environment.
6. The project stalled because the bureaucratist refused to entertain any deviations from the established plan.
7. Many in the organization viewed the bureaucratist as an obstacle to efficiency and collaboration.
8. The bureaucratist's reports were thorough, but they lacked the insight needed for effective decision-making.
9. Despite his bureaucratist approach, he had a knack for navigating complex regulatory landscapes.
10. The team struggled to implement new ideas under the watchful eye of the bureaucratist.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/bureaucratist>