

BY-END

Meaning: By-end: a mutually beneficial resolution or agreement reached between parties involved in a negotiation or dispute.

1. The negotiations reached a by-end that satisfied both parties.
2. In a surprising turn, the team discovered a by-end to their ongoing dispute.
3. The by-end of the agreement allowed for a smoother transition to the new policies.
4. Finding a suitable by-end was crucial to maintaining harmony in the community.
5. The by-end of the project was marked by collaboration and mutual respect.
6. They worked tirelessly to achieve a by-end that reflected their shared values.
7. The by-end of the discussion revealed unexpected common ground.
8. Reaching a by-end required patience and careful consideration from all involved.
9. The by-end was celebrated as a milestone in their relationship.
10. Ultimately, the by-end proved to be more beneficial than anyone had anticipated.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/by-end>