

CADUCARY

Meaning: Caducary refers to obligations or contracts that are no longer valid or enforceable due to the expiration of time.

1. The company's caducary practices led to numerous expired contracts that caused confusion among clients.
2. In legal terms, caducary refers to obligations that are no longer enforceable due to the passage of time.
3. As the caducary period approached, the team scrambled to finalize their agreements before they became void.
4. She was surprised to learn that the caducary nature of the lease meant she had to vacate the premises immediately.
5. Understanding the caducary implications of his actions helped him avoid potential legal troubles.
6. The caducary rules in the agreement were clearly outlined, ensuring both parties understood their responsibilities.
7. They faced a caducary deadline that would render their proposal ineffective if not submitted on time.
8. His caducary status in the organization prompted a reevaluation of his role and responsibilities.
9. The caducary aspect of the policy meant that benefits would expire if not utilized within a specific timeframe.
10. With the caducary clauses in place, the contract was designed to protect both sides from unforeseen circumstances.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/caducary>