

CALCULABLE

Meaning: Calculable: capable of being measured or estimated in a quantifiable manner.

1. The risks of the investment were calculable, allowing for informed decision-making.
2. In this experiment, the outcomes are calculable based on the data collected.
3. Her contributions to the project are easily calculable in terms of time and effort.
4. The benefits of the new policy are calculable and will be reported quarterly.
5. His potential earnings from the venture were calculable and promising.
6. The environmental impact of the construction was deemed calculable by the experts.
7. With careful planning, the costs became calculable and manageable for the team.
8. Their chances of success seemed calculable, based on previous results.
9. The team's performance metrics are calculable and can be tracked over time.
10. In the realm of finance, many variables are calculable, aiding in strategic planning.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/calculable>