

CASTIGATORY

Meaning: Castigatory: serving to reprimand or criticize severely.

1. The teacher's castigatory remarks left a lasting impact on the students.
 2. His castigatory tone during the meeting made everyone uncomfortable.
 3. She wrote a castigatory letter to the editor, criticizing the newspaper's biased reporting.
 4. The novel features a character with a castigatory attitude towards those who break the rules.
 5. In his castigatory speech, he emphasized the importance of accountability in leadership.
 6. The film's director was known for his castigatory approach to social issues.
 7. Her castigatory review of the restaurant highlighted its many flaws.
 8. The manager's castigatory response to the team's failure was unexpected.
 9. The article took a castigatory stance against the government's inaction on climate change.
 10. Despite his usual kindness, there was a fleeting moment of a castigatory expression on his face.
 11. The teacher's castigatory tone made it clear that misbehavior would not be tolerated.
 12. His castigatory remarks during the meeting left several employees feeling demoralized.
 13. The novel's protagonist often faced castigatory judgments from society for his unconventional choices.
 14. She wrote a castigatory review of the restaurant, highlighting its many flaws.
 15. The film included a castigatory commentary on the injustices faced by marginalized communities.
 16. His castigatory approach to criticism sometimes alienated potential allies.
 17. The castigatory language used by the author served to emphasize the moral failures of his characters.
 18. In the debate, her castigatory arguments struck a chord with the audience, drawing passionate responses.
 19. The castigatory nature of his speech was intended to provoke change among his listeners.
 20. Despite its castigatory tone, the article sparked an important conversation about accountability.
-

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/castigatory>