

CATEGORICAL

Meaning: Categorical: absolute and unqualified; leaving no room for doubt or exception.

1. Her categorical refusal to participate left no room for negotiation.
2. The scientist made a categorical statement about the results of the experiment.
3. He expressed his opinion in a categorical manner, leaving no doubt about his stance.
4. The committee issued a categorical denial of the allegations against the organization.
5. In her report, she provided categorical evidence supporting her claims.
6. His categorical assurance gave everyone confidence in the project's success.
7. The teacher's instructions were categorical, making it clear what was expected.
8. She issued a categorical warning about the dangers of the approaching storm.
9. The lawyer's categorical defense was crucial in winning the case.
10. They received a categorical promise that their concerns would be addressed promptly.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/categorical>