

CAUSTICALLY

Meaning: Caustically means in a manner that is sharply critical or sarcastic, often causing hurt or offense.

1. She caustically criticized his lack of preparation for the meeting.
2. The comedian delivered his jokes caustically, leaving the audience in stitches.
3. Her caustically witty remarks often left her friends both amused and slightly offended.
4. He responded caustically to the accusations, refusing to back down.
5. The review was written caustically, highlighting every flaw in the director's vision.
6. In a caustically sarcastic tone, she pointed out the irony of the situation.
7. The article addressed the issue caustically, sparking a heated debate among readers.
8. He caustically remarked on the absurdity of the situation, prompting laughter from his peers.
9. Her caustically sharp comments were often mistaken for humor rather than criticism.
10. The debate turned caustic when both sides began to argue caustically over trivial points.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/caustically>