

CAVIL

Meaning: To cavil means to raise trivial or petty objections or to make unnecessary criticisms.

1. He tends to cavil at every minor detail in the report.
2. It's unproductive to cavil over such trivial matters.
3. She would often cavil about the rules instead of focusing on the game.
4. The lawyer began to cavil at the evidence presented by the prosecution.
5. Rather than appreciate the effort, he chose to cavil at the execution.
6. Critics may cavil at the film's pacing, but the story is compelling.
7. To cavil at the decisions made by the committee is counterproductive.
8. Some people cavil simply for the sake of argument, without a real point.
9. It's annoying when he cavil about things that don't really matter.
10. We should focus on the big picture rather than cavil over semantics.
11. He tends to cavil at even the smallest details during meetings.
12. It's frustrating to hear him cavil over issues that are otherwise settled.
13. She often cavil about the terms of the agreement, seeking to negotiate further.
14. Rather than accepting the proposal, he chose to cavil at its feasibility.
15. They would cavil at the price, despite the quality of the product being exceptional.
16. To cavil over minor points can derail the entire discussion.
17. The teacher warned the students not to cavil when it came to their grades.
18. In his review, he decided to cavil at the pacing of the film rather than its performances.
19. Instead of offering constructive feedback, she preferred to cavil at the process.
20. His tendency to cavil made collaboration with him quite challenging.
21. He tends to cavil at minor details instead of focusing on the bigger picture.
22. The lawyer's incessant cavil during the negotiations frustrated everyone involved.

23. Rather than accept the proposal, she chose to cavil about its terms.
24. It's easy to cavil when you are not the one making difficult decisions.
25. During the meeting, he would often cavil about the presentation's format.
26. The critics began to cavil, pointing out inconsistencies in the storyline.
27. She didn't want to cavil, but the report had several glaring errors.
28. Despite his admiration for the artwork, he could not help but cavil at its price.
29. They decided to overlook her cavil, understanding her perfectionist tendencies.
30. His habit of cavil often led to prolonged discussions that went nowhere.
31. It's frustrating when people cavil about the rules rather than accepting them.
32. During the debate, she would cavil at every point made by her opponent.
33. His constant need to cavil over trivial matters made meetings unnecessarily lengthy.
34. The lawyer's habit to cavil at every piece of evidence delayed the trial.
35. She didn't want to cavil about the specifics, preferring to move forward with the project.
36. Even though he was right, his tendency to cavil made him unpopular among his peers.
37. Instead of appreciating the effort, he chose to cavil about the execution of the plan.
38. To cavil at the author's conclusions seemed unjust, given the strength of the research.
39. In discussions, it's often more productive to avoid cavil and focus on solutions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/cavil>