

CEDE

Meaning: To cede means to formally give up or relinquish control, possession, or rights over something, often in a political or legal context.

1. The country decided to cede a portion of its territory to promote peace.
2. In the negotiation, she was reluctant to cede any authority to her counterpart.
3. He had to cede control of the project to ensure its successful completion.
4. The king agreed to cede some of his powers in exchange for support from the nobles.
5. During the meeting, they chose to cede their claims rather than prolong the conflict.
6. The organization will cede its assets to a charitable foundation after dissolution.
7. Feeling overwhelmed, she chose to cede her responsibilities to a trusted colleague.
8. The company was forced to cede its market position due to increasing competition.
9. After much deliberation, the team decided to cede their demands for the sake of unity.
10. She had to cede her dream when her family needed her to take over the business.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/cede>