CERIPH

Meaning: Ceriph refers to a style of typeface that features small decorative lines or strokes at the ends of the letters, often used to convey a classic or elegant appearance in printed materials.

1. The graphic designer opted for a ceriph font to give the project a more classic feel.
2. In typography, a ceriph adds a subtle elegance to printed materials.
3. She always preferred ceriph typefaces for their readability and timeless style.
4. The book cover featured a striking ceriph that caught the eye of many readers.
5. Using a ceriph for the heading helped distinguish it from the body text.
6. The subtle curves of the ceriph enhanced the overall design of the poster.
7. His thesis was formatted using a clean ceriph, making it easy to read.
8. Many professional publications favor a ceriph for its formal appearance.
9. The logo utilized a modern ceriph that balanced sophistication with clarity.
10. Designers often debate the merits of ceriph versus sans-serif fonts in branding.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/ceriph