

CHANGEABLENESS

Meaning: Changeableness refers to the quality of being subject to frequent or unpredictable changes.

1. The changeableness of the weather in this region keeps residents on their toes.
2. Her changeableness in opinions often made it difficult for her friends to understand her.
3. The artist's work reflects a changeableness that captures the fleeting nature of beauty.
4. In nature, changeableness can be both a challenge and a source of inspiration.
5. The changeableness of his moods was a source of concern for his family.
6. Her changeableness in fashion choices showcased her vibrant personality.
7. The stock market's changeableness can lead to both risk and opportunity for investors.
8. The changeableness of the seasons brings a unique charm to the landscape each year.
9. His changeableness in commitment made it hard for him to maintain lasting relationships.
10. The changeableness of public opinion can greatly influence political outcomes.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/changeableness>