

CHATOYMENT

Meaning: Chatoyment is the optical phenomenon in which a band of light appears to move across the surface of a gemstone or reflective object, resembling the sheen of a cat's eye.

1. The jeweler showcased a stunning ring that exhibited an extraordinary chatoyment effect.
2. Under the light, the cat's eyes revealed a mesmerizing chatoyment that captivated everyone in the room.
3. Chatoyment in the gemstone created a unique visual allure that drew the buyer's attention.
4. As she moved, the silk fabric displayed a beautiful chatoyment reminiscent of a peacock's feathers.
5. The rare stone's chatoyment was so pronounced that it seemed to pulse with life.
6. Photographers often seek out chatoyment in their subjects to enhance the depth of their images.
7. The artist used chatoyment as a technique to add dimension to her paintings.
8. With each turn, the bracelet's chatoyment transformed, creating a dynamic play of light.
9. The chatoyment in the opal added a layer of complexity to its already rich colors.
10. He was fascinated by the chatoyment of the chrysoberyl, which made it stand out in his collection.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/chatoyment>