

CHIRRE

Meaning: CHIRRE (verb): To make a short, sharp, and cheerful sound, typically referring to the calls of birds or insects.

1. The cheerful chirre of the sparrows outside my window was my morning alarm.
2. As the sun warmed the field, a chorus of insects began to chirre in the tall grass.
3. The old, rusty gate would chirre loudly on its hinges whenever the wind blew.
4. I could hear the faint chirre of a cricket from somewhere deep within the stone cellar.
5. The tiny tree frog let out a soft chirre before leaping into the damp undergrowth.
6. In the quiet of the library, the only sound was the chirre of a librarian's pen on paper.
7. The metal wheels of the vintage pram would chirre rhythmically as she walked down the cobbled lane.
8. He tried to sneak in, but the floorboard's telltale chirre gave him away.
9. The summer night was alive with the persistent chirre of cicadas in the oak trees.
10. With a final, metallic chirre, the ancient lock yielded and the chest creaked open.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/chirre>