

CHROMOLITHOGRAPHER

Meaning: A chromolithographer is an artist or technician who creates color prints using the chromolithography process, which involves layering multiple colors to produce detailed and vibrant images.

1. The chromolithographer meticulously layered colors to achieve stunning depth in his prints.
2. As a skilled chromolithographer, she preserved the vibrant hues of nature in her artwork.
3. The museum showcased a rare collection of works by a renowned chromolithographer from the 19th century.
4. Many artists of the era relied on the expertise of a chromolithographer to bring their visions to life.
5. The chromolithographer's technique revolutionized the way posters were produced in the late 1800s.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/chromolithographer>