

CIRCUMSCRIPTIVE

Meaning: Circumscriptive refers to a method or approach that emphasizes or defines limits or boundaries within a particular context.

1. The artist's approach to the project was highly circumscriptive, focusing on the boundaries of creativity.
2. In the debate, her circumscriptive arguments highlighted the limitations of the proposed solutions.
3. The scientist's circumscriptive methodology ensured that all variables were carefully controlled.
4. His circumscriptive writing style often left readers pondering the unspoken implications.
5. The law was criticized for its circumscriptive nature, as it restricted individual freedoms excessively.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/circumscriptive>