

CIRCUMSCRIPTIVELY

Meaning: Circumscriptively means in a manner that defines or restricts a concept within specific boundaries or limits.

1. The term 'circumscriptively' can be used to describe how a concept is defined within specific limits.
2. In academic discussions, theories are often circumscriptively framed to avoid ambiguity and confusion.
3. The artist chooses to express his ideas circumscriptively, focusing on well-defined themes and motifs.
4. When examining the text, it becomes clear that the author writes circumscriptively to emphasize certain constraints.
5. She approached the problem circumscriptively, ensuring that all variables were carefully accounted for.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/circumscriptively>