

CITABLE

Meaning: CITABLE (adjective): capable of being cited as a reliable source of information or evidence in academic or professional contexts.

1. The research paper included numerous citable sources that bolstered its arguments.
2. For the project to succeed, it is crucial to use citable references from reputable journals.
3. Her ability to provide citable evidence made her argument more persuasive in the debate.
4. The professor emphasized the importance of citable material in academic writing.
5. When writing a thesis, always ensure that your claims are supported by citable data.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/citable>