

COADJUTING

Meaning: Coadjuting refers to collaborating or working together with others to achieve a common goal or improve outcomes.

1. The researchers found that coadjuting efforts between different departments led to significant improvements in project outcomes.
2. Coadjuting with local organizations, the charity was able to extend its outreach and support to more families in need.
3. In the discussion, the professor emphasized the importance of coadjuting strategies in achieving sustainable development goals.
4. The team focused on coadjuting resources to maximize efficiency and reduce waste during the manufacturing process.
5. Coadjuting with various stakeholders allowed the city to create a comprehensive plan for urban revitalization.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/coadjuting>