

COAGULUM

Meaning: Coagulum refers to a thickened mass of blood or other fluid that forms to stop bleeding and facilitate healing.

1. The doctor explained that the coagulum formed as part of the body's natural healing process.
2. After the injury, a coagulum developed at the wound site, helping to stop the bleeding.
3. In laboratory tests, the researchers observed the formation of a coagulum in response to the anticoagulant treatment.
4. The presence of a stable coagulum indicates effective clotting in patients with bleeding disorders.
5. During the surgical procedure, the surgeon monitored the coagulum to ensure it was not interfering with blood flow.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/coagulum>