

COERCION

Meaning: Coercion is the practice of persuading someone to do something by using force or threats, which can invalidate genuine consent and create distrust in agreements.

1. Coercion can undermine the validity of consent in any agreement.
2. The use of coercion in negotiations often leads to distrust among parties.
3. Many legal systems are designed to protect individuals from coercion in the workplace.
4. He argued that the confession was obtained through coercion, rendering it inadmissible.
5. Coercion can take many forms, from threats to psychological pressure.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/coercion>