

COMBUSTIBILITY

Meaning: Combustibility is the ability of a material to ignite and burn in the presence of heat or flame.

1. The combustibility of certain materials can pose significant risks in industrial settings.
2. Understanding the combustibility of various substances is crucial for fire safety protocols.
3. Scientists are researching the combustibility of new biofuels to enhance energy efficiency.
4. In construction, assessing the combustibility of building materials is essential for compliance with safety regulations.
5. The combustibility of natural gas makes it a valuable energy source but also requires careful handling.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/combustibility>