

COMPUNCTION

Meaning: Compunction is a feeling of guilt or moral scruple that follows the recognition of having done something wrong.

1. She felt a deep sense of compunction after realizing how her words had hurt her friend.
2. Despite his tough exterior, he often experienced compunction for the mistakes he had made in his past.
3. The criminal showed no signs of compunction during the trial, making it difficult for the jury to empathize with him.
4. Compunction can be a powerful motivator for change, pushing individuals to make amends for their wrongdoings.
5. Her compunction over taking credit for a teammate's idea weighed heavily on her conscience.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/compunction>