

CONFESSIONALISM

Meaning: Confessionalism is a political system or approach that emphasizes the representation and power-sharing among different religious groups within a society.

1. Confessionalism often plays a crucial role in the political landscape of multi-religious societies.
2. The country's confessionalism has led to a unique power-sharing arrangement among its different religious groups.
3. Critics argue that confessionalism can perpetuate divisions rather than promote national unity.
4. In many cases, confessionalism influences not only politics but also social interactions within communities.
5. The resurgence of confessionalism in recent years has sparked debates about identity and governance.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/confessionalism>