

CONFUTABLE

Meaning: Confutable: capable of being proven false or refuted by evidence or argument.

1. The theory presented was so flawed that it was easily confutable by the available evidence.
2. His arguments were confutable, relying on assumptions that had been thoroughly debunked.
3. In a debate, it's crucial to ensure your claims are not confutable by opposing viewpoints.
4. The scientist aimed to create a hypothesis that was both testable and confutable to advance his research.
5. Many consider conspiracy theories confutable due to their lack of empirical support.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/confutable>