

CONFUTANT

Meaning: Confutant: a person who argues against or disproves a claim or theory, often by presenting evidence or counterarguments.

1. The confutant presented compelling evidence that challenged the prevailing theories.
2. In the debate, her role as the confutant was crucial in dismantling the opponent's arguments.
3. His status as a confutant in the discussion highlighted his expertise on the subject.
4. The confutant's ability to counter the claims with logical reasoning impressed the audience.
5. During the seminar, the confutant skillfully navigated through complex misconceptions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/confutant>