

CONJECTOR

Meaning: Conjector: a person who formulates or proposes theories or hypotheses based on incomplete information or speculation.

1. The conjector proposed a radical theory that challenged established scientific beliefs.
2. As a skilled conjector, she often speculated on the outcomes of complex mathematical problems.
3. In discussions about climate change, the conjector cited various models to predict future scenarios.
4. The conjector's insights were met with skepticism, yet they sparked valuable debates among her peers.
5. During the lecture, the conjector shared her latest ideas about the origins of dark matter.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/conjector>