

CONJECTURALIST

Meaning: A conjecturalist is a person who formulates hypotheses or speculations about a subject, particularly in philosophy, without definitive evidence.

1. The conjecturalist approached the problem with an open mind, willing to entertain various possibilities.
2. In the realm of philosophy, a conjecturalist often speculates on the nature of reality without definitive evidence.
3. Her theories were largely conjecturalist, relying on assumptions that sparked much debate among her peers.
4. As a conjecturalist, he was fascinated by the potential implications of alternative historical outcomes.
5. The conference featured several conjecturalists who presented innovative ideas about the future of technology.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/conjecturalist>