

CONJUNCTIVITIS

Meaning: Conjunctivitis is an inflammation of the conjunctiva, often resulting in redness, itching, and discharge from the eyes, and can be caused by viral or bacterial infections.

1. Conjunctivitis, commonly known as pink eye, can be highly contagious if caused by a viral or bacterial infection.
2. The symptoms of conjunctivitis typically include redness, itching, and discharge from the eyes.
3. People suffering from conjunctivitis should avoid touching their eyes to prevent spreading the infection.
4. In some cases, allergic conjunctivitis can be triggered by pollen, pet dander, or dust mites.
5. Treatment for conjunctivitis often depends on the underlying cause, whether it is viral, bacterial, or allergic.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/conjunctivitis>