

CONSTRUCTIONAL

Meaning: Constructional refers to the structural or foundational qualities and characteristics related to the building or formation of something.

1. The constructional integrity of the building was ensured by using high-quality materials.
2. Her research focused on the constructional aspects of language development in children.
3. The team made significant progress in understanding the constructional features of ancient architecture.
4. They faced several challenges during the constructional phase of the project due to unforeseen complications.
5. The constructional design of the bridge allowed it to withstand harsh weather conditions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/constructional>