CONTINGENTNESS

Meaning: Contingentness refers to the quality of being dependent on certain conditions or circumstances, often implying uncertainty or variability.

1. The contingentness of their plans made it difficult to commit fully.
2. Philosophers often debate the contingentness of existence and its implications for free will.
3. The project's success depended heavily on the contingentness of external factors beyond their control.
4. Understanding the contingentness of human relationships can lead to greater empathy and patience.
5. In her thesis, she explored the contingentness of social norms and how they evolve over time.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/contingentness