

COPARTNER

Meaning: A copartner is a person who shares ownership and responsibilities in a business partnership, often bringing complementary skills to enhance success.

1. In the startup world, having a copartner with complementary skills can significantly enhance the chances of success.
2. She decided to take on a copartner to help manage the growing demands of her business.
3. Their partnership as copartners allowed them to blend their ideas and create something truly innovative.
4. As copartners in the project, they shared both the responsibilities and the rewards equally.
5. Finding the right copartner can be just as crucial as the business idea itself.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/copartner>