

CORRESPONSIVE

Meaning: Corresponsive: exhibiting a mutual relationship in which changes in one element correspond to changes in another.

1. The two variables demonstrated a corresponsive relationship, indicating that changes in one could predict changes in the other.
2. In the study, researchers found that the participants' emotions were corresponsive to the music they listened to.
3. The team's results were not only impressive but also showed a corresponsive nature to previous findings in the field.
4. Her approach to teaching was highly corresponsive to the diverse learning styles of her students.
5. The data collected over the years revealed a corresponsive trend in consumer behavior during economic shifts.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/corresponsive>