

CORROSIBLENES

Meaning: Corrosibleness refers to the quality or degree to which a material is susceptible to deterioration or damage due to chemical reactions, particularly from exposure to moisture or other environmental factors.

1. The corrosibleness of the metal was a major concern for the engineers working on the bridge.
2. To ensure safety, they had to test the corrosibleness of various materials before making a final decision.
3. The research focused on the corrosibleness of certain alloys in acidic environments.
4. Manufacturers often seek to reduce the corrosibleness of their products to extend their lifespan.
5. Understanding the corrosibleness of different substances can lead to better protective coatings in construction.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/corrosibleness>