

COTICULAR

Meaning: Coticular refers to the fibrous structures in plants that contribute to their structural integrity and properties.

1. Coticular fibers are essential for the structural integrity of many plant species.
2. The researcher examined the coticular properties of the newly discovered species.
3. In her thesis, she argued that coticular adaptations are crucial for survival in harsh environments.
4. The coticular layer in the leaf structure plays a vital role in moisture retention.
5. Understanding the coticular features of this organism could lead to advancements in botanical science.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/coticular>