

COURAP

Meaning: Courap: a state of being captivated or deeply engaged, often characterized by intense fascination or emotional involvement.

1. The artist's unique style often left viewers in a state of courap, captivated by the vivid colors and intricate details.
2. During the meeting, her courap was evident as she passionately discussed her ideas for the new project.
3. Many people find themselves in a state of courap when they encounter breathtaking landscapes for the first time.
4. His performance was so powerful that it left the audience in a courap, unable to move or speak for several moments.
5. The unexpected twist in the plot created a sense of courap among the readers, leaving them eager for more.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/courap>