

CRYSTALLOGRAPHER

Meaning: A crystallographer is a scientist who studies the arrangement of atoms in crystalline solids and analyzes their structures.

1. The crystallographer meticulously analyzed the structure of the newly discovered mineral.
2. With years of experience, the crystallographer made significant contributions to the field of materials science.
3. During the conference, the crystallographer presented groundbreaking research on protein crystallization techniques.
4. The crystallographer's work is essential for understanding the properties of complex crystal forms.
5. Her passion for mineralogy led her to become a renowned crystallographer in the scientific community.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/crystallographer>