

DABBLINGLY

Meaning: DABBLINGLY (adverb): in a manner that indicates a casual or superficial engagement with an activity or subject.

1. She approached the art of painting dabbingly, enjoying the process more than the outcome.
2. His dabbingly written poetry reflected his casual interest in literature rather than a serious commitment.
3. With a dabbingly playful attitude, she tried her hand at various crafts over the weekend.
4. The students engaged dabbingly in the science experiment, eager to explore but not overly serious about the results.
5. Even when dabbingly exploring new subjects, he found joy in the small discoveries along the way.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dabbingly>