

DAPIFER

Meaning: Dapifer: a steward or officer in a medieval household responsible for serving food and managing the kitchen.

1. The dapifer entered the grand hall, proudly announcing the evening's feast.
2. In medieval households, the dapifer held a prestigious position, responsible for serving food to the lord.
3. As a dapifer, his role was not only to present meals but also to ensure the finest ingredients were sourced.
4. Guests were impressed by the dapifer's ability to coordinate the intricate dinner service seamlessly.
5. The dapifer's expertise in culinary traditions elevated the status of the noble family's gatherings.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dapifer>