

DATIVELY

Meaning: Datively refers to the grammatical case used to indicate the indirect object of a verb, often expressing the recipient of an action in a sentence.

1. He explained the concept of datively constructed sentences in a way that was easy to understand.
2. In German, the indirect object is often marked datively, which can change the meaning of the sentence.
3. She quickly grasped how to use the dative case datively in her writing assignments.
4. The professor emphasized the importance of using datively appropriate forms in academic discourse.
5. Children learning a new language often struggle with datively structured phrases and their implications.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/datively>