

DECEPTIVITY

Meaning: Deceptivity refers to the quality of being misleading or deceptive, often causing others to question their understanding or beliefs.

1. The artist's work was a study in deceptivity, challenging viewers to question their own perceptions.
2. In politics, deceptivity can undermine trust and lead to widespread disillusionment among the electorate.
3. Her charm masked a certain deceptivity that made it difficult for others to truly know her intentions.
4. The novel explores the theme of deceptivity, revealing how characters manipulate each other for personal gain.
5. Recognizing the deceptivity in advertising can help consumers make more informed choices.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/deceptivity>