

DECERN

Meaning: To discern means to perceive or recognize something clearly, especially by distinguishing it from other things.

1. It can be difficult to discern the truth when so many conflicting stories are presented.
2. The detective was able to discern the subtle clues hidden within the evidence.
3. In her analysis, she aimed to discern the underlying patterns that influenced the data.
4. He struggled to discern whether his feelings were genuine or simply a passing infatuation.
5. The philosopher sought to discern the nature of existence through rigorous debate and inquiry.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/decern>