

DECHARM

Meaning: DeCharm (verb): to remove or counteract enchantment or charm, often restoring normalcy or awe-inspiring wonder.

1. The magician's tricks seemed to deCharm the audience, leaving them in awe.
2. In a surprising turn of events, the potion was able to deCharm the once-hostile creatures.
3. To break the spell, she needed to find a way to deCharm the enchanted mirror.
4. He sought the ancient scrolls hoping to discover the secrets to deCharm the cursed artifact.
5. The wise sage taught her the ways to deCharm any negative energy surrounding her.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/decharm>