

DECLAIMANT

Meaning: Declaimant: a person who delivers a formal speech or recitation, often with eloquence and passion.

1. The declaimant stood confidently at the podium, delivering a powerful speech that captivated the audience.
2. During the debate, the declaimant's eloquence and passion shone through, making a lasting impression on the judges.
3. As a seasoned declaimant, she expertly employed rhetorical devices to enhance her argument.
4. The declaimant's voice rose and fell dramatically, drawing in listeners with each carefully chosen word.
5. In the competition, the declaimant faced stiff competition but managed to stand out with her unique perspective.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/declaimant>