

DECLAMATORY

Meaning: Declamatory: characterized by a style of speaking or writing that is marked by the expression of strong emotion or rhetorical flourish.

1. The politician's declamatory style captivated the audience during his speech.
2. Her declamatory performance brought the poem to life with passion and intensity.
3. The actor's declamatory delivery was both powerful and moving, leaving the crowd in awe.
4. In the debate, he resorted to a declamatory tone that overshadowed his actual arguments.
5. The professor preferred a more conversational approach, avoiding the declamatory manner of some of his colleagues.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/declamatory>