

DECLINATORY

Meaning: Declinatory (adjective): relating to a legal plea or motion that seeks to dismiss a case or challenge the jurisdiction of a court.

1. The defendant's declinatory plea was intended to challenge the jurisdiction of the court.
2. In legal contexts, a declinatory motion can effectively delay proceedings if filed correctly.
3. Her declinatory attitude during the meeting suggested she was not interested in addressing the issue at hand.
4. The lawyer submitted a declinatory objection, asserting that the case should be dismissed on procedural grounds.
5. His declinatory remarks during the discussion indicated a reluctance to engage with the proposed solutions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/declinatory>