

DECOCTIBLE

Meaning: DECOCTIBLE (adjective): capable of being extracted or concentrated through the process of decoction, especially in reference to herbs or ingredients used in making teas or broths.

1. The herbal blend was known for its decoctible properties, making it a favorite among tea enthusiasts.
2. After hours of simmering, the decoctible ingredients released their full flavor into the broth.
3. In ancient medicine, many remedies relied on decoctible herbs to extract their healing compounds.
4. The chef emphasized the importance of using only decoctible plants to enhance the dish's aroma and depth.
5. She carefully selected decoctible roots to create a nourishing tea that warmed her from within.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/decoctible>