

DECOMPLEX

Meaning: Decomplex (verb): To simplify or clarify something complex or intricate.

1. The scientist aimed to decomplex the intricate theories surrounding quantum physics for his students.
2. In an effort to improve efficiency, the team worked to decomplex the software, making it more user-friendly.
3. To better understand the issue, she decided to decomplex the data into more manageable sections.
4. The architect's goal was to decomplex the design process, ensuring that all stakeholders could easily contribute.
5. By breaking down the project into smaller tasks, we were able to effectively decomplex the overall strategy.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/decomplex>