

DECOMPOSE

Meaning: To decompose means to break down organic matter into simpler substances, typically through the action of bacteria and other microorganisms.

1. Organic matter will decompose over time, enriching the soil with nutrients.
2. The scientist explained how bacteria help to decompose dead plants and animals.
3. In a compost pile, kitchen scraps decompose quickly, turning into nutrient-rich fertilizer.
4. When exposed to moisture, certain materials can take years to fully decompose.
5. It's fascinating to watch how nature works to decompose fallen leaves and restore the ecosystem.
6. The leaves began to decompose, enriching the soil with nutrients.
7. Bacteria play a crucial role in the process of decomposing organic matter.
8. After a few weeks, the fruit left on the counter started to decompose and emit a foul odor.
9. In nature, decomposing materials support the ecosystem by providing food for other organisms.
10. Scientists study how different conditions affect the rate at which substances decompose.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/decompose>