

DECOMPOUNDING

Meaning: Decompounding is the process of breaking down complex words into their simpler constituent parts to aid in understanding and vocabulary development.

1. Decompounding is a crucial process in understanding complex words in linguistics.
2. The students practiced decompounding to enhance their vocabulary skills.
3. In chemical engineering, decompounding refers to breaking down polymers into their monomer components.
4. She found that decompounding phrases into simpler terms helped her explain concepts better.
5. The workshop focused on the decompounding of multi-part words to improve language comprehension.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/decompounding>