

DECREMENT

Meaning: Decrement (verb): to decrease or reduce the value or quantity of something, often in a systematic manner.

1. The software is designed to automatically decrement the inventory count as sales are processed.
2. After each round of testing, we decided to decrement the parameters to better analyze the results.
3. Each time the temperature rises, the system will decrement the cooling power to save energy.
4. To optimize performance, we must carefully decrement the workload during peak hours.
5. The team agreed to decrement their expectations for the project's timeline due to unforeseen delays.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/decrement>